Our Treatments...

Targeted Low Dose Chemotherapy

Low dose chemotherapy (LDC/IPT) is a unique system of delivering chemo agents. It uses insulin to potentiate the effect of chemo by targeting the cancer cells. Cancer cells have many more insulin receptors than normal cells. These receptors serve as doorways into a cell, and once the door is unlocked with insulin, the cancer cell takes up the chemo along with any other agent intravenously administered. Due to this potentiation, much lower doses of chemo can effectively be administered, reducing some of the major side effects of conventional doses. Treatments are administered over several hours, one to two times per week.

PK Protocol...

Today's world is filled with hundreds of thousands of harmful and toxic agents. In the last century alone over 100,000 were introduced into our society. Many of these agents lead to chronic disease and inflammation. Cardiovascular and autoimmune diseases are only a few of the many diseases that we are experiencing in an ever growing number. PK Protocol and other IV therapies such as chelation, custom nutritional IVs and homotoxicology can help reduce this burden and restore health and vitality. Along with treatment, patients are guided to healthier life style choices.

Oxidative Therapies

This is an intravenous method of adding oxygen free radicals (ozone, hydrogen peroxide and ultraviolet light) into the body, as well as increasing the oxygen carrying capacity of the blood. This not only strengthens the immune system, but it can also help the body to overcome a host of conditions by oxidizing and killing microbes in the blood. Patients with upper respiratory infections, the flu, chronic fatigue syndrome, and immune deficiencies can improve with this type of treatment.

Our Mission Statement...

Our clinic strives to restore and maintain health through innovative functional medicine.

Our Vision Statement...

Our innovative treatments are designed to reach a new level of health and wellness care with a basis in functional medicine. "Functional medicine" is a systems oriented approach specific to each individual. It involves a partnership of the patient and practitioner to target underlying causes of disease. It addresses the whole person with regard to their individual genetics, environmental exposures, lifestyle factors, emotional and physical makeup, each of which is an influence in chronic disease. Our goal is to bring about health and vitality through the investigation and treatment of each of these components.

Bio-identical Hormone Replacement

Many are familiar with the prescription version of hormones for menopause, but with bio-identical hormones one receives hormones identical to what the body produces. These hormones can be used to treat menopausal and perimenopausal symptoms along with certain other gynecological conditions. Men, as they age into their 40s, can begin to feel the effects of lowering testosterone levels. Strength, vitality, stamina, and sexual function are customarily restored in both men and women when these declining hormone levels are replenished. It is being established, even now, that restoring essential levels of sex hormones in men and women can favorably diminish the body's predilection to develop cardiovascular disease, cancer, and osteoporosis. The balancing of these hormones by natural and bio-identical means, such as the Wiley Protocol, can help to restore hormones to more youthful levels.

Immune System Dysfunction

Many people suffer a variety of symptoms—from fatigue to muscle and joint aches. Others have more serious conditions, such as rheumatoid arthritis, lupus, and other immune-related disorders. At our clinic we address the causes of these conditions and offer treatment options tailored to each person's needs.
